The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every postoffice in the Territory, and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the Southwest.

DELEGATE-ELECT ANDREWS WILL DO WHAT IS RIGHT AND PROPER.

"Senator Andrews will endeavor to secure just as much federal aid for New Mexico as possible. Albuquerque voters treated him badly. The business men now, by means of banquets and receptions are seeking to efface the memory of the manner in which they voted. They won't be able to do this, but the Senator is magnanimous and will return good for evil. He will work for an appropriation for a post office building in Albuquerque. He cannot but be gratified at the splendid vote given him by this city and this county and will be a warm friend to Las Vegas whenever opportunity offers."—Las Vegas Optic.

Delegate-Elect Andrews will do his duty as the representative from New Mexico to the Fifty-ninth Congress as fairly and as impartially as a man who is human can do. To be sure, he is under no obligations to the voters of Albuquerque and Bernalillo County, who allowed themselves to be used to the detriment of the people and of the Republican party, by Boss Hubbell, during the recent election. This, however, will not influence him to do anything but what is right and fair by Albuquerque and Bernalillo County, and the people may rest assured that he will do nothing injurious or detrimental to any city or town of the Territory. He will do his duty as delegate from and for the people of New Mexico in the next Congress, and will not advocate projects and schemes which his constituents do not want or have not approved in conventions and at the ballot boxes during the present year. That in his public position, he will stand by his friends, whenever and wherever possible, having due care for the interests of his party and of the people as a whole, and by those who worked and fought for him in the recent election, is but natural and expected. Indeed, it would be a strange thing were it to be otherwise. The New Mexican expects and believes that the record of Mr. Andrews as delegate from New Mexico will be as clear and as bright as the noonday sun on a fair June day in sunny New Mexico, and as beneficial and satisfactory to the people of the Territory.

LOCAL IMPROVEMENTS ARE A NECESSITY.

Santa Fe needs more public improvements. The sewer system should be extended and improved. Sidewalks should be put down on the principal business streets and residence avenues and vitrified brick street crossings should be constructed throughout the more thickly inhabited portions of the city. The bridges and culverts within the city limits should be placed in good repair and a number of new ones should be built wherever necessary. The county now has one first-class bridge in the city and another fine stone bridge is in course of construction. This is good as far as it goes, but during the coming year a stone bridge should also be built across the Santa Fe River on Galisteo street. A city hall building should be erected by the city and a new jail building by the county. These improvements, if taken in hand and completed during the year 1905, will prove of vast benefit and increase the population of the city. A new and modern high school building is in course of erection and this will be finished in time for service for the school year commencing in September 1905. New ward buildings in the first and second wards are a great necessity and should be provided for. The Capital should not stand still, but must move forward and take a prominent position in the line of progress and advancement. Every businessman and property owner here will be benefited by such a course. The more improvements, the cleaner and more healthful the city, the more will it attract tourists, health seekers and people who desire to live in Santa Fe, which, with its natural advantages and by improvements, can be made one of the prettiest and most desirable residence towns in the whole country.

ADVERTISING PAYS.

W. L. Douglas, Democratic candidate for governor of Massachusetts, who received 35,000 majority over his Republican opponent, although the Old Bay State gave Roosevelt and Fairbanks 85,000 majority, is a great advertiser in business and carried his advertising propensities into his canvass. The result showed that his plan was right and succeeded. The Kansas City Star, commenting upon his election, says that W. L. Douglas, the Democrat who was elected governor of Republican Massachusetts, attributes the result to "publicity and a real issue." He says "Advertising made my business pay and I used it to the limit in arousing and directing the sentiment which I knew to be widespread on the subject which was our chief issue—reciprocity and tariff relief." From long business experience Mr. Douglas had learned the value of newspaper advertising and he very sensibly applied the idea in his political canvass. The advantages of publicity from newspaper advertising are evidently coming to be more widely known.

CABINET CHANGES.

The Washington report that several of the members of the Cabinet are to retire after March fourth, has caused no commotion and no excitement in the public mind. The people have so much confidence in the sagacity of President Roosevelt that they fully believe that the right kind of men will be named to replace those who desire to retire from the Cabinet next spring. They are convinced that the President is more than apt to do exactly what is right and best for the country in the selection of his official family and therefore feel unconcerned about the report, who will or who will not be in the next Cabinet. John Hay, secretary of state is to be retained during Mr. Roosevelt's coming term, and the country is well satisfied with this announcement, as it is universally acknowledged that Mr. Hay is the ablest, best posted and most successful diplomat this country has had at the head of the State Department for many years.

Democratic papers in various sections of the country are already expressing fear that President Roosevelt, who has just received a magnificent vote of confidence by the American people, may attempt the role of the "man on horseback." Long winded editorials upon this subject are making their appearance and these papers are working themselves up into a frenzy of fear and sorrow. This is like some of the hot air charges which were made against the President before election and which the voters of the country regarded as balderdash and rot. One theory upon which the whinnings of this class of Democratic papers may be explained is that they have little to write about and that these inuendo attacks on the President are about as good as anything else to fill columns.

Honors are coming thick and fast to United States Senator Charles Dick, of Ohio. Within the last 15 years this man, comparatively young, has been prominent in the public eye and that in a very creditable manner. For a long time he served as secretary of the Republican National Committee, was then elected to Congress and thereafter secured a United States Senatorship to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the lamented Marcus A. Hanna. This week he was nominated by the officers of the Ohio National Guard for major general of the Guard of the state and will receive his appointment accordingly from the governor. Senator Dick should let the people know which title he would rather be called by, Senator or General. Either will do.

For a banner Democratic county and claimed by the Democratic Territorial Committee by something like 600 or 700 majority at the last election, Eddy County did not fulfill this expectation, which is a good thing for the county as well as for the Territory. The majority there for Mr. Money over Delegate-Elect Andrews was only 203; this shows conclusively that the Republicans there, under the leadership of L. O. Fuller and A. N. Pratt, did energetic and good work and that Democratic voters were so pleased with the Republican candidate for delegate and the Republican Territorial administration, that many of them stayed at home and did not think it worth their while to vote.

Several of the disinterested patriots who did their level best to prevent the election of Senator W. H. Andrews as delegate from New Mexico, have already concluded that they made a mistake and are asking for favors from the delegate-elect in order to show that they have no longer any grudge against him. They may get them and they may not. At any rate the New Mexican believes that Senator Andrews is not the kind of a man who easily forgets his political enemies.

Thomas E. Watson, Populist candidate for the Presidency in the recent election, will be a candidate for the Presidency in 1908, and that in all seriousness. He may be acceptable to the Western and Southern Democrats, but what will the Eastern wing of the party do with him should he get the nomination?

Judge Alton Brooks Parker has formed a partnership with a firm of corporation lawyers in New York City. Rather significant that.

"Parker and Davis pass off the stage and its nothing but Roosevelt and the 'nigger.'"—Owenton (Kentucky) Democrat.

"No, it isn't 'Roosevelt and the nigger,' but it is Kentucky and the nigger, and the rest of the country can easily stand it if Kentucky is bound to have it that way."—Kansas City Star.

The Star puts it in the right way; but will the Solid South ever see it in the correct light? That is the question!

Statistics show that the longevity of the human race is increasing and that science can now cope successfully with many diseases deemed incurable in past ages. Mankind is getting stronger, and this has been successfully demonstrated by the result of the recent election. There are a great many Democrats who ran for office, or who wanted office, but who were defeated, still alive even though their hearts are broken.

It is said that Colonel Bryan is glad that there is no chance for his election to the United States Senate by the coming Nebraska legislature, as he fears such an event would destroy his chances for the Presidency in the future. All right, Colonel! Anytime! The Republican party will not oppose you in your desire to get the nomination on the Democratic or Populist ticket.

Concerning the political future of Missouri, the St. Louis Globe Democrat says: "Republican Missouri has come to stay, if the party stands steadily by the people, avoiding machine methods and treating the question of offices as a minor matter."

Much good common sense in this and the Missouri Republican leaders should pay attention to it.

Even in the state of Arkansas the Republicans made gains in the last election. It may be that there is really a breaking of the dense political clouds in the South. Such a one would be a mighty good thing for all concerned, the people there and the nation throughout.

In the light of the results of the recent campaign in this Territory, it must be admitted that the voters of New Mexico are incorruptible. The Democrats could not win even with Money and they certainly had Money all over the Territory.

It is said that the Republican National Committee has a handsome surplus in its campaign fund, while the Democratic National Committee has expended the vast sums of money given it by the trusts. That is the difference between Chairman Cortelyou and Chairman Taggart. Sabe?

Mr. Bryan says that Judge Alton Brooks Parker was not acceptable to the western Democrats. In view of the fact that President Roosevelt carried every eastern state, was this candidate acceptable to the eastern Democrats?

According to Andrew Carnegie, universal peace and a general disarmament will come in the year 3,000. As this is some time off, the United States will do well to keep a formidable navy and an efficient army for a year or two longer.

Being chairman of the Republican County Central Committee of Bernalillo County seems to be a lucrative job, if the reports on campaign contributions and assessments on candidates, received by the chairman of the committee are even half true.

Chicago newspapers are having lots of fun with the railroads these days. They sell several of the great western systems one day to the trust magnates and buy them back the next. This fills space and is interesting reading.

Chairman Tom Taggart, of the Democratic National Committee, says that the Democratic party does not need reorganizing. Of course not. He wants to hold on to his fat and lucrative job as long as possible.

The New Mexican's good friend, Mrs. Ella Wheeler Wilcox, announces that she is leading a triple life. She is getting quite fast in her old age. A double life is generally fast enough for most people.

Senator Gorman now pats himself on the chest and says: "If I had been the candidate." Yes, Senator, if you had been, the chances are that the Republican victory would have been still greater.

Despite the recent great Republican success, the Democrats in Kentucky are hopeful. The immense corn crop of the present year will keep their distilleries going profitably for a year or two.

Hope springs eternal in the human breast. According to the Philadelphia Ledger, the Vermont Democrats are already planning for the Presidential campaign of 1908.

Germany and France are not much interested in the cessation of the present Russo-Japanese war. They are well satisfied to lend the combatants money at six per cent.

The people of the country are looking forward to a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. The vote on Tuesday, November 8th, helped materially in that line.

According to a Wall Street financial paper, the money supply is liberal and easy. It ought to be; good times ahead. The Republicans have carried the country.
